ABSTRACT

This article seeks to examine the aspect of searching for a safe space where any gay man can live freely without being attacked, bullied or killed. The article seeks to provide strategies on how to locate a safe space as a gay man living in a homophobic nation. In finding a safe space, many make use of the rainbow flag but at the same time, many gay men tend to misinterpreted the context in which the flag is placed and end up in what I term “Hell Mouth”. Such is a deadly or risky zone for gay men. Such a place is not conducive for gay men. This article cuts across the aspect of misrepresenting the rainbow flag and the dangers of misrepresenting it as a gay man. Many lost their lives in the search for a safe space has been a huge challenge for gay men especially the gay men in Africa. Many European gay porn stars and activists are afraid to visit homophobic nations because they are hell mouths for them. Misrepresenting something gives a different impression about that thing. Fight a good fight, live happily, see hope even though you are born in a homophobic nation. Finding a safe space is like travelling to the evil forest to look for the teeth of the last black cat. Challenges must come your way and you must be strong for a wise man once told me “Nothing good comes easy” The Heritage Illustrated Dictionary of The English Language International Edition defines a symbol as something that represents something’ else by association, resemblance or conventions; especially, a material object used to represent something invisible. It can as well be a printed or written sign used to represent an operation, element, quantity, or relation as in mathematics or music as the dictionary tells us. The rainbow flag is the national symbol of all LGBTQ communities of the world.

Keywords: Rainbow flag, symbol, safe space, hell mouth, misrepresentation, gay men

INTRODUCTION

In Cameroon, it is uncommon to see young boys putting on t-shirts with the rainbow color on it or putting on clothes that have the rainbow color on it here in Cameroon. This is because most Cameroonians have a negative impression about the rainbow. Thaddeus Morgan reminds us that the rainbow flag is indeed a symbol of the gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender community. Let us take a biblical dimension as to the rainbow being a covenant between man and God. The pleasures of this world have caused man to be deviated from Gods standards into contradicting the divine meaning of the rainbow to represent ungodly practices which is evil in the eyes of God. Genesis 9:11 tells us that God made use of the rainbow after destroying the evil doers on earth during the days of Noah as a covenant with man to show how loving he is towards us. The covenant was Gods promise to us never to destroy his creation with flood as he did in the days of Noah. This tells us how loving God is towards us. Despite Gods compassionate heart, man's wickedness increased more and more. Homosexuality, lesbianism, bestiality and more still prevails in our world today. Man has decided to fall in love with his fellow man committing sexual sin here and there. This is increasing Gods anger day by day. The rainbow as a covenant between our God and man can be seen in Genesis 9:12-17. From this scripture, God created the rainbow as a sign of a long-lasting agreement between God and man reflecting on how God looked at us with no pity caused by our wicked attitude and strategized on using flood to wipe us from the earth. When you provoke God with your wickedness and sinful ways, his wrath upon your life wont spare you as you lament and wail and bleat like a goat in labour. Harvey Milk, a gay politician inspired Gilbert Baker to undertake the designing of the LGBTQ flag that symbolize the gay communities of the United States of America and beyond as Thaddeus Morgan recounts in his article titled "How Did The Rainbow Flag Become an LGBTQ Symbol?". In as much as the Pink Triangle existed as a symbol of the LGBTQ before Baker created his, he realized it was not convincing and that pushed him to design the rainbow flag as the best flag. To become a gay man, age, height and race cannot become a barrier. I came across gay boys on Facebook aged 14 to 25 years who were in relationships with older men aged 28 to 45 years. I felt so bad about it but had to stay quiet to mind my business. It is worthy of note that Baker didn't design the rainbow flag on his own. He worked with other people like Harvey Milk and with the encouragement, he designed the rainbow flag for the LGBTQ community which was displayed on the 25th of June 1978 at the G.F.D.P (Gay Freedom Day Parade). After this flag was launched, Milk was assassinated. This is a man who sacrificed his life for a one united community. His memory lives on as one of the heroes of the LGBTQ community. Gilbert Baker, a hero breath his last on March 31, 2017 at the age 65 is remembered for his goal of reigniting all in one flag in 1979 and later adopted as a universal symbol for the LGBTQ communities in 1978. A gay man once said "Each time I see the rainbow flag, I see Baker through it". I have come to let you know that the rainbow was created by God and I urge you to see God as you look at the rainbow in the sky and keep on desiring to know him more. You can as well stick to the covenant you made with your God in the days of Noah so that you won't follow the western ways of life and end up in a hell mouth. When you are homophobic, using brutality, weapons of mass destruction and devilish means to battle this won't help but remember the time is coming when beasts will rise from the sea moving towards your west to bring vengeance upon the nations that seek to violate Gods covenant. This was what I saw in my dream but I pray it does not come to pass out of divine mercy from above. All what the world should be clamoring for is to know Jesus and to desire the knowledge and wisdom of God because people who know the world must not do anything against the word. Remember the Stone Wall Riot (June 28, 1969) at the stonewall Inn Bar which left many clamoring for Justice. This instance must not repeat itself again and Gilbert Baker, a gay activist fought so hard to see that Gay rights are granted to gay men. A gay man is proud to be gay and this gives him pride. Habakuk 2:14 reminds us that the rainbow is a symbol of Gods greatness, compassionate heart and a reflection of his glory. Which can as well be seen in Ezekiel 1:28. The rainbow was not dedicated by God to be used for the LGBTQ community. Gay men have misinterpreted the rainbow from being a covenant to a symbol of the LGBTQ. The essence of the rainbow is that agreement God made with man and nothing more. The rainbow in the sky is different from the rainbow flag. The fact the word "flag" was added to it completely changed its meaning. Whenever you see the rainbow in the sky, appreciate God for reminding you of your covenant with him and on the other hand, whenever you see the rainbow flag, remember the LGBTQ community who have made it a symbol of identification as like-minded people. God hated Sodom and Gomorrah to the extent where he destroyed them and that hatred towards same sex people seem not to have an end. It will last till eternity comes. Assistant Professor Dieudonné Tamfu recounts in his article titled "What Does the Rainbow mean for gays". It represents Gods kindness that he has for us. He felt pity for us after looking at what he did to his own creation out of his vengeance and made a decision not to destroy his creation with water which was an agreement he made with us that we all appreciated. God is not happy seeing you practicing evil and don't hide under the canopy that he won't destroy you with water anymore. God can use other means to punish you. It can be a sudden illness upon your life or an untold suffering but remember it will last for a short period of time if only you acknowledge him and sincerely repent but if not, it may take you on a journey of no return. God is just being compassionate and patient with you, if not he would have taken your life ever since due to your disobedience. All what God wants from you is a change of mind. Remember not all safe spaces are safe. Some may look safe but as you start living there you may be accused or caught in the act of same sex relation and brutally beaten or subjected to murder in the hands of the very community that welcomed and accepted you. You can refer a safe space as any place of comfort, a place of rest where you can feel safe, feel accepted, feel comfortable, feel free to do whatever you want to do without homophobic tendencies or hatred. A safe space is one that accepts you regardless of your race, gender or sexual orientation and allows you to practice it in peace, pride and hope. A safe space is one that regards your worth, value regardless of your physical, psychological, emotional or mental pathologies. A hell mouth as the name goes is an unsafe space for gay men and even gay women. Such a place is deadly and must not be a dwelling place for gay men and even if they by any means find themselves there, living peacefully in discreet lifestyle is primordial so as not to be detected and captured. As a gay man, you can live in a homophobic nation without being noticed but what matters is to focus on your education, career and building a family like other heterosexuals to fine-tune the discreet lifestyle. Life is short as many attest and since it's just one life, we must have to live it as if we don't know tomorrow for we can die at any time. Die knowing Christ and not the other way round. Stop hating your neighbor or friends unnecessarily for no good reason, or God will hate you even more. Why hate the effeminate men who may not even practice homosexuality but you still despise them because they are easily noticed as gay men because of their physical structure. You being manly does not guarantee your safety as well because if Karma meets you, your manly nature won't be a guarantee to set you free. Love everybody and stop the careless whisper of hatred for it will make your heart swell and give your health problems in the days or months or years ahead. Value your health more than your wealth because the richest of men had money but ended up in the grave. Money cannot do everything for you but you must take that as a challenge to fight for your future. Finding justice may not be an easy one when you are weak and about to be burnt to death for being gay and even when you are vindicated, know it's by God's grace and that grace warrants an instant repentance for if you waste your life even one bit, another instance may come which will warrant your life. Interpreting the rainbow flag can take a positive as well as a negative dimension. Think very well before declaring a place a safe space for you and your lover for if you just jump in to careless conclusion, you will regret when you fall prey in the hands of a homophobic nation or community which may be a threat to your safety. There is a saying that what an old man will see standing up you won't see it sitting down. Look beyond so you won't fall in the hands of fake gay men or scammers who will lead you to your hell mouth. Don't forget to pray to God for I know even thieves and prostitutes do pray. Pray in all dimensions for the hell mouth is open, ready to capture and humiliate you for accepting to take an orientation that does not please God but rather pleases man. Be conscious of the unsafe areas so you won't be victimized. Don't misinterpreted the rainbow for such an interpretation will lead you to your hell mouth. Think positively about life for you are not a witch nor a demon but you are unique in your own way. Just be happy for who you are but don't forget to repent for the second hell is certain for the unrepentant soul. Be strong for the battle is yours and not Gods for you brought it upon yourself. Finding a safe space is not easy. You must put all your five senses to action and you must think, reason and deliberate as you live with your heterosexual brothers while staying true to your thoughts and actions believing in who you are and what you stand for in the midst of challenges. Disclose not your identity and stop the cat and dog race of changing partners like rapper for such is an indication to cause your neighborhood and neighbors to notice you and investigate about you and once their investigation gives a positive note, you will be stressed, tensed, afraid of the unknown and doomed if caught in the act. Observe your environment and locate the safe space for yourself because I can only guide you but I cant locate the safe space for you and for all gay men in the world since you all are scattered all over and there is no community without gay men or gay women.

Many at times when we see the rainbow flag hoisted in the queer communities of our nations, we only see homosexuals first before thinking of other sexual deviants represented in the flag. Not only gay men look up to the flag as their symbol of hope and security. Even the lesbians, bisexual men and women, transgender men and women, bestiality deviants and even crossdressers now look up to the flag as their source of hope and favour.

Homosexuals in Africa keep on lamenting day and night because they don't know what the future holds for them. They don't know if their customs and traditions will one day give them the opportunity to share the love they desire. This very love which has been forbidden by the gods. They keep on lamenting if the god of Mount Cameroon “Epasamoto” will feel pity for them and consider them as human beings. In Many African countries including Cameroon, they are regarded as aliens from an unknown world and at times, they are regarded as “Ogbwanje” once they are caught in the act or seen putting on a dress that has the rainbow flag on it. Some societies prefer to take them to church for deliverance saying that they are processed by an evil spirit that wants to destroy their lives. No wonder I wrote a poem where many prefer to travel abroad to South Africa, Mozambique, particularly to the capital city Maputo, Congo and Mauritius where they can live peacefully with their lovers. They are running from the scorpions who desire to sting and poison their love. They prefer a faraway land where the eagles won’t be able to reach them so they can live in peace. Homosexuals in Africa live in fear. They hide in the dark so that they won’t be seen in the light. Many attest that they feel that there is naturally a world somewhere meant for them alone. Living in a society where they are being violated upon is a call for concern. At times they feel as to commit suicide and die. This is one of the reasons for the suicidal attempts among gay men. Above all, they terminate their own lives because they see no reason for their existence. They feel as if earth is not the right planet for them. To many, a society where homosexuality prevails is a cursed society. I see a lot of injustice in the world today. I feel as if we are living apart. Some homosexuals especially the female homosexuals are not really looked at by law but the law focuses more on the male homosexuals. I know you will be wondering why I brought this up. There are girls and women out there who practice homosexuality as well as heterosexual sex. These women most at times force their so-called heterosexual husbands to do anal sex with them. By so doing, they indicate them in to the world of homosexuality. The world sees them as heterosexual couples but in the comfort of their matrimonial bed they are simply sexual deviants. A sexual deviant is someone who has deviated or drifted away from Gods divine standards of human sexuality which centers only on the heterosexual sex where the love between a man and a woman is approved and not vice versa. Here in Africa especially Cameroon, Lesbianism is not heard at any given point in time. Every single day we hear catholic priests and bishops standing against homosexual practices saying it’s against their religion. Why are they not talking about the lesbians of Africa especially those in Cameroon who are hiding in night clubs, oberge’s in and around Cameroon. Why can’t they talk about those lesbians on Facebook who invite their friends to come lick their vaginas in romance and fingering as they get in to the real sex using artificial penis of all sizes and vibrators deep inside the vagina for pleasure. It is very normal to see a woman putting on foot chains but when a man puts that on, eye brows shall rise and many will associate the signified which is the intended meaning of that chain to gayism but nothing is said when women put that on.

If a homosexual can beat and kill or rape and kill his fellow homosexual, it means the heart they carry which beats every day is clouded with dark thoughts. The person you call your lover can turn around to be your worst enemy and if you are not careful, he can send you to the other side of the river while he stays back with the memories of a lover he killed called “you”. Don’t allow your enemies to rejoice over your downfall. Make them see the value in it and it will put them to shame.

Home is not safe for gay men in most communities in Africa. Many see home as a threat. Many are afraid to come out as gay men in Cameroun for fear of the unknown since homosexuality is not acceptable here. Many are afraid to be bold enough to tell their parents about their hidden sexuality. This is the most challenging problem that most gay men face in most African countries especially in Cameroon. So many gay churches exist in the west. Here, gay men can tie the knot and live together as husband and husband. These churches are against the doctrines of the contemporary church. Both heterosexuals, gay men and women worship there as they interact with each other in harmony without having any dispute as long as the practices of the homosexuals, lesbians and bisexuals does not affect the heterosexual population in a negative way, they can live together without any interference by any homophobic individual.

The hell mouth is a symbol of danger or an evil pit meant to inflict pain on the gay man rather than helping him resolve his unending problems on a daily basis. The term hell mouth signifies a pit dug to swallow its victim and lead him or her to hell. That place where there seems to be no hope but unending suffering and pain. A place of darkness and a passage to the real hell that burns consistently (the burning Sulphur) As a threaten performer that I am, I borrowed the words hell mouth from stage acting because we used to create it on stage when acting a certain type of scary drama that warrants people to disappear and appear on stage using the hell mouth. In my context I see the hell mouth as a dangerous space that gay men should feel scared to go to.

A gay church without the rainbow flag hoisted in front of its premises is not safe for a gay man. Wherever the rainbow flag is hoisted, any gay man who sets his feet in that area is safe as long as it's not misinterpreted to signify a hell mouth. Not every location where you see a rainbow flag is safe haven for gay me. Some are simply places to attract gay men so as to use them as objects of disgrace, torture and humiliation. If you cannot interpret the purpose for putting the flag at a certain location and you end up misinterpreting it as a safe space of which it indicates an unsafe space, you will put yourself in danger and victimize yourself as you keep regretting your choices for venturing to go there.

A man who puts on a rainbow dress, bangle, necklace, shoes, cap or other valuable assets must have something to say about the homosexual world and any other person who sees him must relate with him easily without fear in him because the rainbow flag or the rainbow color gives the gay man confidence to speak out his mind(emotions) without trembling. Through the rainbow flag, young gay men who are struggling to understand their sexuality meet with well experienced gay men or gay councilors who give them wise council that will help them throughout their gay life here on earth. There are gay men out there who have no prospects of abandoning or letting go the practice till death while others have prospects of changing to their normal heterosexual lifestyle and making a family with the woman of their heart. Some just do it to satisfy the pleasure of the flesh. You should never desire to live and die a gay man because God is reminding you in his word that he is a forgiving God who is merciful and compassionate to all regardless of their sinful nature. No wonder gospel musician Mrs. Elizabeth Tekeh sang her son titled "God is looking for you all he wants to make use of your lives; God is looking for you all he wants to make use of your life". She also sang the song titled "I want to tell you that I have good news for you, if you put your trust in Jesus, he will turn your story round". My Bible tells me there is no place in heaven for gay men. Repentance is free of charge and God is standing by waiting to hear you say “I am sorry, forgive me Lord and receive me in to your kingdom.

Many gay men who were caught in the act in most African countries like Cameroon were beaten by an angry mob because Cameroon is a homophobic nation. They were beaten by angry mobs and almost choked to death. The police vindicated them from the hands of the angry mob who almost deformed their face and bodies with multiple injuries by sending them to jail. Others wore the rainbow color dress and were assumed to be homosexuals and were beaten by angry mobs who monitored their secret moves and found out what they do in secret while putting on their recognizable outfit. The rainbow flag to many represents hell mouth for gay men as people misinterpret it for gay prostitutes who put on the rainbow dress to entice others to fall in love with them. Other gay men found themselves at the verge of being stoned to death but found hope and safe space when a renowned government official drives to the scene wearing a rainbow chain round his neck and had the flag as a design on his outfit and that was how they were rescued from homophobic mob Justice geared towards killing the homosexual. Through the rainbow flag, gay men see a safe and conducive space to live together in harmony. Also, the rainbow flag gives a gay man a sense of trust. He believes in the rainbow flag and feels that his safety lies in it. He sees the rainbow flag as his demi-god that he looks up to each day for protection. He jealously keeps it and makes sure he doesn't lose it. The rainbow flag is very important in the life of a gay man. When a gay man finds himself in a difficult situation, he needs someone to reason like him, to understand what he is going through and to help him out. Many took them to see native doctors or witch doctors as the white man calls them to heal them from the sickness of homosexuality and to consult diviners who can Forsee and reveal what is happening to them. Most gay men hardly find it easy seeking help from heterosexuals because they will never accept their way of life.

Therefore, most gay men follow the rainbow flag and whosoever that carries the rainbow flag or symbol of the rainbow flag either in their cars, shoes or outfit and why not in their homes are seen to be the perfect helpers for gay men who are in trouble. A gay man has a high probability to trust another gay man who has the symbol of the rainbow than he who does not.

It is worthy of note that not everyone who walks around holding the gay flag or having it designed on his outfit or shoes or sprayed on his hair and goes about with it is a gay man. Some are deceivers. They are like snakes in green grass. They pretend to be gays but they are not. They use the rainbow flag to catch and harass gay men in public. They use the flag to deceive gay men to misinterpret the context in which the flag is placed and once the misinformation leads to misinterpretation, they find themselves lamenting calling themselves fools and to have been blinded and misguided by the same flag they look up to. You can be practicing homosexuality in a nation where the practice is prohibited without being deceived and caught by unprecedented homophobic individuals but remember that karma is real. Once caught and beaten twice shall you be shy and feel disgusted and disgraced. The disgrace will be unbearable because you misinterpreted the context which the flag was placed purposely to capture you and make you suffer. Most fell in the hands of fake gay men who disguised under the cover of the rainbow flag, caught, molested either sexually or physical torture, humiliation, imprisonment or murder which marks the end to the gay man's existence. My advice for gay men is to be watchful because times are evil. In as much as they also practice evil, being careful is the most important price to pay for a gay world that is free from troubles of all sort. Don't depend on people who add no value in your life. Depend on God instead because he needs you the most. Remember that not everyone who puts on an outfit that has the rainbow flag on it practice homosexuality. Some of them are simply anti-gay cobs or homophobic individuals who are in search for gay men to use as sacrifice in evil alters since they practice occultism. The evil grandmaster may ask them to sleep with other men as their own price which they must pay to become rich. In most cases you will be asked to sodomise teenagers and you become wealthy every day. If you disrespect the order punishment ranging from abrupt death to diseases is obviously going to be a pay for defaulters. You may even lose a relative in the course of it as your punishment for disobeying the grandmaster of the cult. Most occults practice homosexuality as a way to increase in wealth. The more men they sleep with, the more destinies they add up to their endless wealth granted to them by the so-called demons of wealth as many call them. When you are caught by the police for any reason attached to the practice of homosexuality, you will be imprisoned and the hell out of you will beaten and casted out as you pour out oceans of tears relieving the trials of unforgettable realities of this dark world. Here in Africa most especially Cameroon homosexual practices are usually done at night which many consider the safest hour to do it. Most at times due to fear of the unknown, they live discreet lives mingling with gay men who are manly in physique so as not to be noticed but when they move with the effeminate gay men, eye brows will be raised leading to untold suspicion. Hookup business among gay men is rampant in most parts of the world. In India its quite common. I had a chat with one gay lord on Facebook who revealed to me how he has so many gay boys under his care whom he assigns to clients who come requesting for anal sex depending on the hour be it all night, two hours and more and it's certain that the more the pay the more brutal the sex can be. These boys go through a lot of pain just because they want to make a living for life has failed to offer them a white collar job like other rich gay men. Most at times, the client who needs the sex will desire it without a condom and sex without a condom is unsafe. Anal sex is one of the most risky form of sex which has led many gay boys and men to their early graves. Many are still battling with the infections they contracted during their unsafe sex till date. Without condom, the price increases but with it, it reduces. Most gay men price a high pay without condom because in case their clients infect them with sexually transmitted infections, they will use the money to buy drugs for themselves and if the money is not enough to sustain them, they can simply beg, borrow or steal as many attest. Others just stay back and pray for death to come take them so they can rest.

It is worthy of note that not every community that hoist a rainbow flag is a safe heaven for gay men. Some communities use the flag to represent something else which is not in line with homosexuality. Therefore, if a gay man goes to such a community, he might be beaten to death. The rainbow flag does not only represent positive values but it reflects bloody zones for gay men who seem not to understand the intended meaning of the sign in a particular context. The flag is the signifier but the intended meaning of the flag is what every gay man should focus on if he doesn't want to fall in to a hell mouth that will swallow and deform him. Before you set your feet in any gay community or gay nation, think well before you start showcasing the gay man or gay woman in you or else you put yourself in trouble once you misinterpreted the semiotics of the flag and end up in a dark pit called hell mouth. It ranges from a dark prison like Condengui in Yaounde, brutal beatings that leads to severe injuries and why not abrupt murder by your oppressors. Anyone who hoist the flag in front of his house, his church or his office may be a gay man. The rainbow flag gives the gay man the impression that the people who occupy such places are calm, loving, caring, welcoming, live in unity with one another and many more. Other may have the flag but which signifies their disapproval for the practice. If you misinterpreted it for calmness and go there thinking you will be welcomed, I assure you that you will reap denial and violent approach. Gay men should learn to understand the context in which people use the flag because it varies from person to person.

I once posted the rainbow flag on my WhatsApp status with the purpose of attracting gay men. Suddenly one of my friends texted me in response to the flag saying “Dear, delete that from your status very fast. Do you want to tell people about your sexuality?” His response was timely because I really needed people to interview so I can get first hand information from the field about sexual deviations and I saw him as the right person to interview because I knew he could tell me something about it. He told me a lot about the gay world which helped me to compile this research work. Gay men use the rainbow flag to connect with other gay men across the globe. As they connect with each other, they share experiences and life struggling as they bring their heads together to help one another in their respective struggles.

These gay men create Facebook accounts both fake or discreet accounts and truthful accounts. The fake account does not carry the gay man’s real photo for his safety but in countries where it is approved, truthfulness is seen in the gay man’s real photo. These gay men create these gay Facebook accounts and post the rainbow flag on it so as to attract other gay men to send them friend request. From friendship to lovers and from lovers to sex partners and from sex partners to “ex-boyfriends” commonly called former boyfriend’s. Most homosexual relationships based on sex cannot last for long.

Most gay men in Europe stick to their partners and it is rare to see them cheat among themselves. Here in Africa, most gays cannot stick to their partners for a longer period of time. They are simply sex oriented and once they get it, they simply cut links with their partners and move to another to do same but most at times, they are not lucky because their new partners may not easily give their bodies to them just like that. Homosexuality in Cameroun is more or less a give and take issue. That is, if you don’t give me money for breakfast, clothing, perfume, rubbing oil or pocket money or money to cook or to buy drugs when sick, put data on phone, visit or text always, giving your body will not be possible unless otherwise. This is what I term “the give and take problem”. This is a theory applicable in most African societies. Most gay men see themselves being exploited sexually, physically and even mentally and psychologically by other gay men who pretend to call them babe in the name of love but are simply using it to exploit them. Shine your eyes before you lose everything in the twinkle of an eye.

The rainbow flag is not only for gay men and women. It is also for transgender men and women as well as bisexuals. The rainbow flag is for lesbians as well. The rainbow flag is like an umbrella that covers all kinds of sexual deviations. The rainbow flag is a representation of gay pride.

My advice for gay men all over the world is to be careful when assuming that someone is gay just like you. Don't look at the persons outward appearance because someone can put on the rainbow shirt or rainbow necklace or rainbow shoe but does not practice homosexuality. Once as you proclaim him gay, you are simply accusing him falsely and that is equal to court judgement and if proven guilty you will go to jail. Not everyone who put on homosexual properties is a gay. It might be someone in disguise ready to capture and humiliate you publicly.

When the rainbow flag is hoisted at half mass, it may imply that the community is mourning their heros or a grievous incidence happened that led to grosome killing or the death of innocence queer civilians. Such a day can be a public holiday to mourn their loved ones. The people put on black throughout the day. There is no freedom for a homosexual living in a risk zone. These risks zones can be communities or nations that embitter gay men and make them feel frustrated in life. These risk zones violate the gay man's right to liberty, freedom of expression and the right to defend themselves publicly. Homosexuals desire a peaceful community. Above all a loving and welcoming community that is caring and las well as one that is free from violence.

Most communities and nations that refused to legalise the practice have deprived homosexuals from having access to health care and this has brought a lot of controversies throughout the world. Most of these homosexuals fear to go to the hospital whenever they notice certain health problems especially a particular anal issue be it pile, anal bleeding, anal wounds or genital warts which affects the anus of most gay men. Going to the hospital to complain of anal problem to a heterosexual doctor or nurse will mean disclosing his sexual orientation. Such can raise alarms in the hospital or cause him to be noticed by all. Homosexuals are constantly stigmatized in most communities in Africa and around the world who are not willing to legalise the practice. Homosexuality is an old practice which has stood the test of time and cannot be eradicated till the second coming of Jesus Christ.

The rainbow flag makes homosexuals around the world to feel at home because it gives them identity, freedom and living together in harmony. The rainbow flag helps to connect sexual deviants in their various communities to interact with each other, share their experiences, make friends with each other and why not live peacefully in their relationships that might lead to married.

It's obvious that many gay communities in the western world have opened up gay schools where children are exposed to homosexual attractions at a very young teenage age and they grow up loving the act right up to adulthood. Others even practice it till old age and end up dyeing as a sexual deviant. My Bible tells me that gay men who die without repenting will find their names shortlisted as candidates of hell. Therefore, I urge you to repent from the pleasures of anal sex. Homosexuals are seen at school, at our job sites, at play, boarding a taxi or bus, and in the church, at our offices, health centres, single sex boarding schools and more. Without the existence of the rainbow flag, there will be no gay community. The rainbow flag does not discriminate. It accepts all kinds of people regardless of their gender, be it albino, fair skin, red skin, dark skin and regardless of their profession or disability. The poor and the rich live together in harmony within their community.

When I went to the field to conduct my research, i noticed that many young gay men wore earrings. These earrings vary based on the role they play. The gay bottom has his own type of earring that he wears which signifies he is a girl in the community and the gay top also has his own earring that he wears whenever he wants to go out so that he can easily be noticed by his fellow gay bottom who needs him. Others tend to plate their hairlike women so that they will look attractive to other gay men. Some dress in sexy outfits, sag their trousers and cream their skin. To them, it is fashionable but they don't know that they are simply telling the world that they are gay men. i urge you to be conscious of what you do. Most of you don't even have an idea about the queer community but you keep moving all over with homosexual properties in the name of "fashion". Remember, the society won't feel and reason the way you do. When you put on materials like bangles, chains and bracelets that contains or carries the rainbow colors on it, the society will see you as someone conforming as a member to the queer community. Others received these properties as their birthday gift or during pride festivals and found themselves regarded as gay men through these properties which they parade around with without Knowing or simply ignoring what it means. The rainbow flag is visibly hoisted publicly in nations where homosexuality is practiced as a symbol of authority to represent the queer community. It is visibly hoisted during the gay pride festival. Before this gay pride festival came to place, the gay communities of the West protested for liberty, equality and fraternity which were three key elements they stood in support of throughout their protest matches. In most schools in the western world, students gayify their classrooms with the rainbow flag as a form of aesthetics. Most gay men are not shy to put on outfits that contains the rainbow color because it gives them joy to belong to a unique community. Mostly gay homes have the rainbow flag either in their parlor, bedrooms, toilets or in front of their homes. Once you visit such a home, that though of acceptance will ring a bell in your mind and you will find a safe space to live. To many, the rainbow flag instills in them positive energy and not negative energy or better still positive feelings and negative feelings. This is what gives him the courage not to give up in his fight for acceptance.

Gay men in Cameroun are sometimes harassed by homophobic individuals as they go about their activities. Others are arrested, imprisoned and bailed for huge amount of money. Most are tortured by their fellow gay men and beaten to death in times of dispute. Others are raped by gay scammers, disclosed identities on social media, sex videos disseminated online for their humiliation and still forced to pay huge amount of money to the so-called scammers to remove their photos or sex tapes which they released online. Most homosexuals I met on social media are orphans who struggle to understand their sexuality. With no support, they seem lost leading to emotional and psychological trauma. Do you think homosexuals have a role to play in nation building? If Truly they have a role to play in nation building, then that should be a reason for them to ask why they exist in America and what they have done for the development of America. America stands so tall like the Iroko tree as she legalise gay marriages. That's on June 2015. I am very sure there is a researcher somewhere writing something on the role played by homosexuals in nation building in Africa.

The rainbow flag is a symbol of kindness. Gilbert Baker created the rainbow flag in the year 1978 and it has been a symbol of gay pride till date. This has been a great achievement so far even though Baker is no more, the flag he designed stands tall in the queer communities of the world. Alyson Almanac in his article titled “The Rainbow Flag” tells us the life of Gilbert Baker who grew up in San Francisco his hometown. He was talented in design and artistic endeavors. This flag was recognized and approved as the LGBTQ flag by the Congress of Flag Makers. The rainbow flag was designed with eight colors. The pink, red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet (sex, life, heading, sun, nature, art, harmony, spirit).

No one is indispensable in the queer community. Even though Gilbert died, other gay men took the lead to move the community forward by designing other flags that reflect the lesbian community, transgender, bisexual and more. Nathalie McCray designed the lesbian flag “the lipstick lesbian”. The bisexual flag was designed by Michael Page on the 5th of December 1998. Monica Helms on her part designed the transgender flag in 1999. All these personalities have helped to reshape the safe space of gay men and women as well as bisexuals, lesbians and transgender persons.

The rainbow flag is used by gay men during their protest marches to advocate for freedom and liberty. Gay activists also use it to fight for gay rights and for the promotion of better living standards. They are out to promote living together amongst gay men. The protest marches are out to bring change in their communities. In Chasing the Rainbow an article by Jennifer Wolowic et Al, tells us how the rainbow flag can be seen on the street at Pedestrian crossings to indicate a safe space for gay men. The colors beautify the street. This reflects a sign of acceptance to the practice.

Many gay Facebook accounts carry necked men kissing each other, sex or the rainbow flag as a sign of acceptance. Others will tell you they are gay tops or bottoms or versatile. Others will prefer to write the reverse as “yag”. Any gay man who notices these signs, knows the account belongs to a gay man like him. A gay account must have gay friend. Some gay Facebook accounts contain the photo of gay porn stars carrying the rainbow flag. Many gay men see the rainbow flag as a sign of support. Through the flag, they find hope of a better tomorrow and it gives them peace of mind as they overcome their daily struggles in life. The flag gives support to the mentally depressed, injured, psychologically traumatized and to console one another in times of sorrow.

The rainbow flag gives comfort to the gay man. This might still be the reverse because the flag might be used as a sticker or hoisted somewhere but signify something different. It may signify a risk zone where homosexuals are caught, beaten, killed and buried. Not every community which displays this flag is in support of the practice. Not every environment is safe for a gay man. Some are burying grounds for gay men. These gay men are sometimes matched in the street as they are publicly humiliated, imprisoned and sometimes ostracized by their communities especially in Cameroon and Nigeria where the act is prohibited. Massachusetts, the British Columbia, Minnesota are areas where gay men can find a safe space. The rainbow flag seems not to disappear from the ends of the earth anytime soon as it flies so high in the United States of America and gives homosexuals a place to live freely as humans.

When a gay man finds it so difficult to tell his family that he is gay, he makes use of the rainbow flag which acts as a signifier to his family. It tells them he is gay. The rainbow flag is used by gay men, lesbians, bisexuals, and transgender men and women to tell the world who they are. We must be extremely careful when interpreting the rainbow flag or when its represented in a particular context. You need to know if its representing a safe space or simply misrepresented thereby standing for a hell mouth or risk zone. Remember, not every man or woman you see on the street is gay or lesbian. Most of them just love gay men but don't want to be like them while others just love putting on clothes that carry the rainbow flag as a sign of prestige and power. They know what it means to put them on but yet carry it wherever they go like face mask with no interest in heart. Most homophobic men and women wore outfits that contains the rainbow colors and used it as a means to condemn the queer community as a whole.

Many gay men today thanks to the rainbow flag, were able to connect with other gay men around the world through Facebook. Facebook as well as grinder is a perfect platform where gay men can find a safe space if only, they respect the rules of the app. They have been able to create gay Facebook groups and named them based on their location. For Instance, "Gay Bonzam". Bonzam is not a name of a place. Its just fictional but that is how gay men name their Facebook groups or communities. They put up strong community rules that don't give room for homophobic thoughts. Below is a message which I was able to capture by one gay man in one gay Facebook group which i was privilege to be part of for the purpose of research. This was my worst field work research which i can never forget. "Hello guys! I'm new, top and living in Souza. I need a serious relationship with a serious bottom. I am a French speaker". This post is extracted from a gay Facebook group called "Buea Gay Hot Boys".

In order to ease communication amongst gay men, these gay Facebook accounts were created to meet new friends but gay men are using it as a platform to make serious relationships, hookup, false relationships, fake relationships, to humiliate others, get sex partners as well as make long lasting relationships that will lead to marriage. Many found their lovers on Facebook. Homosexuality has no place in Cameroon. It's difficult to find true love in the rainbow world. Some are liers while others are simply killers of one's dream and actions. This could be seen in the experience of a gay man who met a heterosexual on Facebook who pretended to be a gay man. This guy fell in love with this heterosexual man who pretended to love him. This gay guy shared his photo, nudes, did video call with him, shared lovely messages before the so-called heterosexual showed his real self. "I am not gay. I will send all your nudes and photos online and I will teach you a lesson. How dare you practice homosexuality. You are a disgrace to the people who gave birth to you". The heterosexual man blocked his contact later on and the gay man could not reach him anymore. The gay guy was warried and began to shed tears. From the story above, most gays have been trapped, beaten, imprisoned and killed using all these methods. I urge you all to be careful with sending your private details to anybody on Facebook for the same Facebook which you consider as safe space can as well be a hell mouth. Others found themselves in the other world after their nudes were used for money rituals. Open your eyes and let your mind be active so you won't fall in danger and die young. A wise man once said "If you allow the dog to keep licking your wound in amusement, titinus will attack and you will die". Don't die when your battles are not over. See the end before death comes.

I was able to locate some few gay groups on Facebook. Some of them include:

1. Gays from Buea Cameroon. A public group with 1.1k members. They share videos and events
2. United "G" Guys from Cameroon (LGBT) private group. 1.3k members (videos and events)
3. Gay whats app group (punlic group) 68 k members (videos and events)
4. Rich gays only (public group) 44 k members

There are many others but this is just a few for the sake of research. It is worthy of note that many fell in the hands of scarmers who pretended to be gay men and ended up kidnapping gay men for ransom. Those whose poor families could not pay were injured with knives, cutlasses, blades, hot irons and more. After these gay boys or men were killed, their bodies were dumped in rivers or streams, gutters, hanged in front of their parents' house as if they deliberately hanged themselves of which they were killed somewhere and dumbes beside refuse. I hereby remind gay men to be careful especially those living in Cameroun for scammers are out here waiting for the least opportunity to use them and extort Ransome from their poor or rich families. If you earn a living from scaring, I pray God bless the works of your hands but remember, the Bible tells me that all scarmers who die without repenting will go to hell when they die.

Homosexuality is a crime in Cameroon. Is a sin as the Bible tells us just like the days of the evil city of Sodom and Gomorrah. To many, what I'm saying is meaningless but it's the truth. Homosexuality is punishable by law with a five-year imprisonment. To many gay men are a disgrace to humanity. To them homosexuals are confused human beings. The reason for this argument is because they see homosexuals to have abandoned sex with women to sex with their fellow men. They are doing things contrary to the will of God. A man who hates homosexuality must fear it as well. Most gay tops fear to be penetrated but love destroying other people's children anus. Isn't that bad? They know the dangers but still practice it. Many are "walking corps". They roam the community making homosexuality a hell mouth for others as they are carriers of deadly marks like Chlamydia, syphilis, gonorrhea, HIV, herpes and more to kill others and send them to their early graves. A wise man once said "not all that glitters is gold". Don't look at the handsomeness of a gay man and detect his health status for many may look healthy outside but dead inside. Be wise enough so you won't fall victim. Most gay men have created gay dating sites to share nudes, gay porn videos, meet and fuck as well as making careless relationships that seem not to last for long. Allah does not approve homosexuality in Islam. The only union he blessed was that between Mohammed and Khadija and not man and man. Most of these gay dating platforms does not only have gay men but it also have anonymous participants who may and may not be gays but might be spies to track and capture gay men who will be brutalized and humiliated publicly. In most communities in Cameroon, when gay men are caught having anal sex, they are publicly humiliated which may be to walk necked, beaten in the street, and imprisoned. The public humiliation is like a stray bullet that does not only kill the gay men but it destroys their reputation, their family name and above all their world will turn upside down as they become the topic of discussion on all social media platforms and other related media outlets that tarnishes their image. This is one of the causes of gay suicidal attempts.

Njie Martin Vevanje once said “I was alone before you met me, struggling to calm the waves of the sea but you by passed me. Now that the waves are calm, you run to me for help”. The quote reminds us to help the LGBTQ communities of the world for they have their own problems that needs our help. Remember, life is a struggle. If you help someone in his days of suffering, he will do same for you. Living in this world without the knowledge of Gods laws in you is problematic. Every gay man needs God. Most gay youths were born in families that signed pacts with the devil and this is the reason why these youths keep practicing evil because their foundation is deeply rooted in evil practices. Life is like a bridge and you just need to cross it step at a time. If you hurry, you will fall on the other side and be forgotten.

The pride month is that period in the history of the LGBTQ community where gay men come out in their numbers to celebrate those who fought so hard to promote homosexuality even though they died but they still believe that their fore fathers have not fully gone to the other side but they are still roaming around watching at them as they celebrate their efforts (bravery and determination). During this pride month, gay men celebrate the dignity of all amsunday, living together without tribalism, racism and standing for equality. They live together as one in love, satisfying one another, living as one happy family and community as they proof a sense of resilience fighting for better living standards. Many reasons accounts for Gilbert Bakers decision of using the rainbow color as a flag for the LGBTQ communities. The flag which became known as a symbol of hope as the LGBTQ communities wish for a society filled with life and prosperity and promise for better days ahead. Hope and prosperity are the two signifiers of the flag when we see the flag as a symbol of the aforementioned. In Genesis 19:4, God revealed to us his reason for creating the rainbow not as a symbol for the second Sodom and Gomorrah but for us to remember his promise of not destroying us with water. I am sure in his second coming he will destroy the second Sodom and Gomorrah with fire. He who is wise will understand what I am saying. Each time the rainbow appears on the sky man should know that it's a reminder of Gods covenant he made with the entire universe. God gave us hope through his kind heart to forgive us as he sent Noah to save his creation from his vengence. Whenever man angers God in his sinful nature, God can retaliate to punish man with the unthinkable punishment. I pray you don't fall in Gods vengence for mercy may be unmerited. God promised us not to punish us using water for he cares so much about us and it pains him seeing us perish for he created us and that pain made him to promise us using the rainbow as a representation of that promise so that we can always look at it as a written agreement between us and God in the court of heaven where God is the supreme judge. Man, as cunning as he took hope and promise from this very scripture of the Bible after observing keenly the meaning behind the covenant we took with Jehovah. It's an abuse to Gods supremacy for man to use his covenant for the representation of a community which from time in memorial, God showed his sad face at. He sits on his throne and weeps for the nations who misinterpreted his covenant for the representation of something else. The Bible tells us that our bodies are Gods dwelling place which we defy through anal sex. How then do you expect to see God when we still live in sin.

If you really want a safe space in a society where this practice is prohibited, you must refrain from gay incest. Stay away from incest as a gay man. Many gay fathers were caught having sex with their children or with minors which is considered an abomination. When a father is caught in the act with his son, he is imprisoned while the mother of the child stays back to cater for the child's health care. In most cases, traditional herbs are administered to flush out the excess semen deposited in the child's anus after penetration. The boy is expected to go through critical anal examination so as to reduce risks of infections, wounds or seizures. In most societies, the man may be beaten by the neighbors and forced to buy crates of beer for his punishment while waiting justice for the victim. In other cases, mob justice takes its course as the man is beaten and burnt with tyres which is against human right norms. Nevertheless, this issue of gay family incest can also take a reverse perspective where instead of the father doing it to his son, he might force his son to do it to him by saying he is horny. This is how many male children were initiated into homosexuality by their gay fathers. When gay incest begins in an African family, that family is bound to be a broken home because Karma is real and secrets must be revealed someday and family members will part ways. If you don't want to be the cause of your family problem, don't promote gay family incest not just between a father and son but it can be between two gay brothers of the same home. I am using these instances to remind you all that the worst hell mouth or risk zone for gay men is to practice it in your family house. Such can bring shame and disgrace to your family's reputation as it might retard your brothers from getting married to girls from other families as the bad act of yours may term them gays of which they may not be into it. It may as well retard other men from getting married to your sisters and trouble sets in the family all because of you. Never should you bring your gay lovers in your family house for any reason if you don't want to be suspected, caught and humiliated. Don't make friends with gay men who cannot keep their mouths shut for one second. Such gay men are wolves. They will cause you to get angry and when dispute broke out, they will abuse you based on your weaknesses. Above all, don't share your deepest secrets with your gay friends or else, they will use these secrets against you someday. Try as much as possible not to put your family's reputation at the detriment of your gay lifestyle. Many of you go to the extent of having sex with your so-called gay lover on your parent's matrimonial bed and end up desecrating it.

Nowadays, most gay boys and men have ran out of home because they no longer feel safe living with people who can't accept them for who they are. Others ran out of home leaving their wives and children behind because they can't bear the shame and disgrace, they brought upon their family after being caught right-handed by their wives in the act. Other gay boys who found themselves in the same situation couldn't bear the abuse levied on them by their guardians and ended up running from home with no destination in mind. Most of them have become street children, drug addicts, rebels and thieves in the street. Others were lucky to find themselves in orphanages. Some are just running from one place to the other looking for a place to sleep at night. Life has become so difficult for them. This is one reason why I see homosexuality as another way of the suffering of man. If homosexuality Truly comes from the pit of hell then I may be subjected to conclude that it is one of satan's strategies to draw many to his camp. Let's put our hands together to help every member of the LGBTQ communities of the world who have deviated from God's divine standard of love, sex and relationship. Why can the Pope of the Catholic Church based in Paris pass a decree proclaiming Priests, Bishops, Rev. Fathers and other catholic officials who are prohibited from getting married to feel free to get married? If this is approved, the rate of sexual immorality where men get married to other men and pretend to be holy in the house of God will become a thing of the past. God himself passed a decree ordering us to reproduce and not to put up laws prohibiting reproduction as a proof of holiness before God. Having sex with your boyfriend as a gay man in your family house is a hell mouth especially in Cameroon. Nowadays there is an upsurge of gay family incest wherein gay twins have sex together as well as gay single brothers doing same in their family house when mum and dad are out. Most of them fell in the hands of Karma when they were caught having anal sex with their own brother leading to them losing their parents, grandparents, aunts or uncles through high blood pressure also called hypertension. This left an unforgettable mark in the minds of their parents when they finally got to know their children's sexuality. Some parents used it to mock their children while others took the law to their hands after beating and fracturing the arm or leg of their children. Some took them to the police station for severe beatings so they will change but still no change. They moved from one church to another but still yet no change and they visited one councilor or psychologist to the other but no perfect solution and finally came to a conclusion that their children were born that way and they just have to accept them for who they are while protecting them from harm's way in a society where such is a crime. Finding a safe space does not lie in gay hook-up business for I met many of them who gave their anus for money ranging from 5000frs to 200,000frs. Some priced it from 5000 frs to 10,000 frs. Finding true love is hard and challenging but that does not warrant you to sell your anus for money. What if you get infected with a sexually transmitted infection, will you still find hope being gay? Many lost hopes long ago and found their way to repent after they were declared HIV Positive. I can imagine the pains you will feel when the Doctor reveals this to you.

Many African gay men see the Western World as Paradise where they would live freely without any form of discrimination caused by religious norms and societal laws. When they got to the western world and saw how hard life was, experiencing Xenophobia and how hard and risky it was to live in the street for many were sexually assaulted. Others got into gay hook-up business over there and got infected with diseases and infections which took them to their early grave. Home is a safe space in as much as culture and religion seems to be a threat. One day it will be made legal for you and for your world. Illegal migration to Europe as a gay man for the purpose of looking for a safe space may turn around to be a hell mouth or deadly adventure for you. Be wise before you venture in to such a journey. Many went to Europe out of frustration, hatreds, rejection, poverty and hunger and took gay hookup as a profession. Those who have survived the hard times in Europe as gay black men have stories to tell their children.

Home is the perfect place for you, my friend. Many of you are regretting today because you still believe in the myth that everything good comes from Europe and this has cause most of you to take the risk of travelling across the Sahara desert, the Atlantic ocean, and other deadly routes as illegal migrants just to go and fall in love with a gay white man who may use you as a sex toy if you don't play your card well and deport you back home like a piece of trash. Remember that whatsoever you find yourself in, that problem is caused by you and the solution lies within you and not far away. Life at home is paradise and lets stay home so we can build this paradise together. If you run away, who do you expect to build the paradise for you to come and enjoy? The best safe space in life is home, home gives you shelter, home loves you and cares for you, home never rejects you even though you may think they hate you but remember that you are one in a million so cheer up and face your future. One needs to be careful the way he lives his life for evil prevails everywhere. I am not disputing the fact that travelling abroad is not good but I want you to be careful with illegal migration for its not the best for you.

Therefore, I urge you all to stay back home. Things will be better someday. Don't follow friends who will deceive you and tell you all kinds of lies that you should travel to Europe and live as a gay man in peace. Who told you practicing homosexuality will give you peace. It's an unending struggle for acceptance in Cameroon so, you can't find peace even out of home for there is no sexual orientation without challenges. Face them for you made the choice to be gay. Be conscious of those nations of the world who have strong anti-gay policies like Nigeria and Cameroon so that you won't move blindly without knowing you are in a hell mouth and the least display you make will lead you to jail or to your peaceful grave. Are you a gay activist? as you go about your activities, know that you are not fully secured because of the carrier you took and you must learn to fight when the fire starts burning. Arise from slumber and be vigilant for those who are to expose you pretend to be like you and fly around you like flies feasting on leftover food. Such people are your enemies and they will star you once they have the least opportunity and once you are dead, they will rejoice in beer parlors as they strategize on their next victim. Whenever you expose your sexuality on Facebook as a gay man in Buea, Limbe and even Yaounde which the Star Review declares as the gayest city in Cameroon, know that you must be conscious for once caught, five year imprisonment is your price to pay. There are safe spaces for gay men out there and there are also risk zones for gay men. Your worry should be how to know a safe space and how to know a hell mouth. This article has given us a clue of safe spaces as well as hell mouths or risk zones for gay men which I spoke of consciousness and vigilance as a detective to know if a zone is safe or not. Observe the lifestyle of the people living in that area, take a keen focus on their cultural practices, their dressing, signs and symbols representing that zone or community, their cultural festivals, their religious norms and political laws for it will guide you in detecting a safe space for your peaceful gay life or a hell mouth that warrants you to live a discreet life. There is no machine to detect a safe space or a hell mouth for gay men but there are strategies to do that which my article has made mention of. All you need to do is to follow whatsoever given to you in this article toward that line and use it as your brain, mind, eyes, and body relate to give you inner consciousness as to finding a safe space but remember, God does not help gay men to find a safe space nor lead you to a hell mouth that will kill you. He only observes your day and night activities as he writes them down as a proof for your judgement on the last day. He does not hate you but remember he loves you and wants you to come back to him for he needs you at this difficult moment of your life where you seem to have drifted apart. Make the right choice for even if you use the techniques I have given you, when Karma is bent at exposing your sexuality to your family, friends, church, school or world, you have no option than to face your trials all alone for you embraced it and made it control your sex life and your love life. When God is bent at exposing you, no technique or strategy written by man in books can reverse it for men listen to God before writing. Remember, that journey you want to undertake out of Europe should be your second option. Stay home as you wait to see the day that the sun shall find rest in you and grant you a legal right to be free. The rate of immortality and indecency in Cameroon has been a huge challenge and i doubt legalizing homosexuality may be a rise of extreme immorality and evil. Live to be conscious of the risks associated in being gay in a homophobic nation like Cameroon so that you won't fall pray in a hell mouth. May you find peace, joy, love, hope, safety and comfort wherever you may be in the world.
